Free Cowboy football tickets for Wyo. veterans

CHEYENNE - Free tickets for the University of Wyoming home game, versus Texas State University-San Marcos, at War Memorial Stadium, in Laramie, Sept. 10, are available to Wyoming veterans thanks to a joint venture of the University of Wyoming and the Wyoming Veterans Commission.

The game continues the University of Wyoming's annual Military Appreciation Day tradition. Kickoff is at 4 p.m., with special recognition of veterans and military during the game.

Veterans may request two tickets per veteran by contacting the Wyoming Veterans Commission at (307) 472-0212.

Veterans will need to provide their name, mailing address, phone number and some basic proof of their veteran status, such as a veterans service organization membership card, VA health care identification card, retired military identification card, or other proof of veteran status.

All requests for tickets must be received by the close of business on Sept. 2 and will be awarded on a first come, first served basis. Tickets will be mailed, as the orders are filled, and no later than Sept. 2.

Veterans are invited to a special pre-game on-field recognition ceremony and will help cheer on the Cowboys as they enter the field.

"Thank you to the University of Wyoming Athletic Department for supporting Wyoming veterans," said Herm Emmett, Wyoming Veterans Commission chairman.

"Wyoming veterans have a long tradition of supporting Cowboy football. This is a great way to recognize our veterans' service to our state and nation."
